

What is the quota for battery energy storage in Greece?

The quota for the latter is 50 MW. The program is part of the just transition efforts within Greece's coal phaseout, currently scheduled to be completed in 2026. Grants for the capital expenditure or capex for the battery energy storage systems (BESS) are set at EUR 200,000 per MW.

Will Greece provide a quota for battery projects in 2024?

Before the end of 2024, Greece intends to provide subsidies for standalone battery projects of 200 MW in total via the third auction. The Ministry of Environment and Energy issued a decree determining the available operating power quota.

When will a battery storage project be up and running in Greece?

The awarded projects must be up and running by the end of April 2026, according to RAAEY. Greece awarded 400 MW and 300 MW of battery storage projects in earlier auction rounds held in 2023 and 2024. Marija has years of experience in a news agency environment and writing for print and online publications.

Does Greece have a battery storage pipeline?

Greece has emerged as one of the countries with the largest pipeline of battery storage projects, but as yet there has been little activity on the ground. This is changing as the long-awaited storage subsidy auctions have started, with the first projects being awarded support for both investment and operating costs.

Should Greece invest in energy storage facilities?

Currently there is a growing interest for investments in storage facilities in Greece. Licensed projects mostly consist of Li-ion battery energy storage systems (BESS), either stand-alone or integrated in PVs, as well as PHS facilities.

Why is Greece launching a battery storage auction?

Initially a response to the COVID 19 pandemic, the focus has pivoted to support Greece's green energy transition. The storage auctions themselves require further approval under EU State aid rules. The pipeline of prospective battery storage projects now approaches 27GW, with over 500 projects granted a storage license.
