Why did Jaeger-LeCoultre create a Powermatic watch?

Positioned at 12 o'clock a rotating disk displayed the remaining hours of power reserve and defined a new collection for Jaeger-LeCoultre, the Powermatic. Because an automatic watch winds infinitely this was the first time people could know about the remaining power left in the mainspring .

How much does a Jaeger LeCoultre watch cost?

The most affordable Jaeger-LeCoultre watches begin at around 3,500 USD. For this price, you can get a never-worn stainless steel Lady Reverso with a quartz caliber. With a budget of roughly 12,000 USD, your options expand to include stainless steel models from the Polaris and Deep Sea collections.

Are Jaeger LeCoultre watches Athletic?

Jaeger LeCoultre's Polaris line is also athletically inspired. The clean lines of Polaris chronographs and watches recall the aesthetics of the 1968 Polaris Memovox, an iconic diving watch that was equipped with an alarm to remind divers to return to the surface.
